BOISING AROUND

A Fairfield man was waiting on a farm road near here when a horse spooked to him from behind a tree.

"Hello, remember me?" I won the Kentucky Derby two years ago,"

"A talking horse," exclaimed the man, rushing to the horse's owner, he asked the sale price.

"That damned horse is no good but if you want him you can have him for $25," the farmer said.

"Twenty?" "I'll give you $2000," the man retorted.

The farmer said, "Say has that old horse been giving you the Kentucky Derby? I happen to know he came in last."

"Is your mother in, little girl," asked the salesman. "Yes, she is," was the reply. The salesman rang the bell repeatedly but there was no response.

"Didn't you say your mother is at home?" he asked again. "Yes, she is," the little girl repeated. "But she doesn't answer when I ring," said the salesman. "No, sir, you're ringing the wrong bell. This isn't our house."

Some kids went to live near one of the naval ports. Shortly afterwards, a battleship fired a salute of 10 guns. The old lady, who lived alone, got out of her chair, smoothed down her dress, "Come here," said she sweetly, "Come here."

Practical girl. Once there was a girl who didn't think she could be happy without a peach necklace. So as her sister died, she went to her sister's room and found a peach necklace. She took it and came home and she got six cakes of soap.

Justice is deaf. A judge who was very hard of hearing tried a case in which both plaintiff and defendant were deaf. Plaintiff: This man ought to be married to my sister. Judge: What have you got to say about that?

Where else? The young lover was obviously reading out a heavy line trying to impress the beautiful young girl at his side. "Those warm lips. And those beautiful eyes! Where did you get those eyes?"

The girl answered, unimpressed. "They came with my hair."

Racial Problem. "Dad, what is an inscrutable smile?"

"The kind, my son, your mother had on her face this morning when I told her that business might keep me out late tonight."

Wow! Little Nancy was playing with a group of very wild children when her mother called her into the house. After a stern lecture on the subject of her wayward little playmates, the mother concluded gently:

"Now, tell me dear, where do bad little girls go?"

Nancy smiled winsomely. "Everywhere," she replied.

AN OVERSIGHT. Mrs. MacGregor: Are you the young man who jumped into the river and bailed my son out when he fell through the ice?

Young Man: Yes, ma'am.

Mrs. MacGregor: Where's his mittens?

Reinforced Leaf. "Your honor," said a lawyer, "this man beat his wife over the head with an oak leaf."

"An oak leaf?" the judge asked.

"An oak leaf couldn't hurt anyone."

"Your honor," pursued the lawyer, "it was an oak leaf out of the dining room table."

STATE OF ALABAMA COFFEE COUNTY.

Whereas, E. D. Green and wife, Eddie E. Green, executed to Southern Benefit Life Insurance Company, Elba, Alabama, on to-wit, July 12, 1945, a mortgage upon the real estate hereinafter described to secure an indebtedness described therein, said mortgage being recorded in the office of the Judge of Probate of Coffee County, Alabama, at Elba, in Mortgage Book A-6, page 430, and

Whereas, default has been made by mortgagors in payment of the indebtedness secured by said mortgage and in the performance of the terms of said mortgage;

Now, therefore, Southern Benefit Life Insurance Company, the mortgagee and owner of said note and mortgage, will sell, under and by virtue of the power of sale conferred by said mortgage, between 11 o'clock, A. One house and plot of land on which same is located, said land being described as follows: Beginning at a point on the West corner of the lot containing 12.00 Acres, more or less, of the Elba Highway, and being part of the S. 1/4 of SE 1/4, Section 1, Township 20 N., Range 20 E., in Coffee County, Alabama.

Said land will be made for the purpose of realizing the mortgage debt, together with all expenses of this sale, including a reasonable attorney's fee.

Southern Benefit Life Insurance Company, Mortgagee and Owner. May 1-15

The Lane Central Company of Tennessee has started drilling the 16-inch artesian well on city property adjacent to the Elba-Highway bridge spanning the canal near the old ice plant on the Opp-Elba Highway.

House or Home?

Lesson for May 18, 1952

ANYBODY with pencil and paper can count the number of houses on a street. Counting the homes is something else. Anybody can buy a house or build a house, any kind you can pay for; but no one can tell you a home. A home is a house the minute it is finished. It is finished. A house never is finished. It never is being built year after year.

Edgar Guest said "It takes a heap of 'livin' to make a home." A house begins to be a home when two people move in who love each other; but it is much more of a home after the grandchildren start coming back for visits.

A house may be running down while a home is growing better and better. Besides, a home does not necessarily have to have a house.

Does the Family Live There?
A L of us would rather have a home than a house if we had to choose. Whatever we live in—separate house, a "flat" or "duplex," an apartment, a trailer, or what not—it can become a home if we live in it.

A home becomes a home in the first place only if the family live there. If all they do is to come in when there is nowhere else to go, if they seldom see one another and then almost by accident, if the place is only a place, a rooming-house, a tenement, a boarding-house, a place to be fed and to stay in when it rains, then it is no home. It is only a house.

Animals don't have homes; they have kennels, barns, stables, etc. They can have very expensive stables too, as you can find around the Bluegrass country. But no one has ever succeeded in making a home for horses because horses have no family life, they are content if the roof doesn't leak and if there is enough to eat and a clean place to lie down in.

People have minds and hearts and souls, and they can know comradeship and unity such as are completely beyond the reach of even the most intelligent of animals. Living is much more than eating, and it takes a heap of living, not just existing, to make a home.

Who Runs the Place?
A HOUSE is a home if it is well run. This does not refer to paying the bills, keeping up the repairs, keeping down waste in the kitchen and so forth. A house is a home only if it is in charge of those who have the most wisdom and can best bear responsibility.

The Bible comes to us from a time and place in history very different from ours; so that we are not wise if we take just any family in the Bible and use it as a model. Solomon had 700 wives and 300 minor wives or "concubines." Abraham had at least three.

We have progressed (thanks to Christianity) past these things. But still the Bible does give us some indispensable guidance in this matter of the home. And one of the points you will find in both Old Testament and New is that the parents ought to have the place of authority in the home—that is, they are expected to run it.

Some families aren't run by any one; they are pure anarchy, continual rumpus and riot. Some families are run by the children, which means they are run by those with least sense and experience. "Honor thy Father and thy Mother" also means, "Father and Mother, be honorable."

Are Children a Nuisance?
A HOUSE is a HOME if children are expected, welcomed and loved. It is not a home if children are regarded either as nuisances, as pests of expense, or perhaps shut out entirely.

Now there are true homes which are of necessity childless; but a home where children would not be welcome and where they are not loved, is no home.

The parents ought to be in charge by all means. But they ought not to be tyrants, dictators. They run the home for the children's benefit, which is quite a different thing from letting the children run it as they please. Eventually, if the parents are wise, they will send out into the world young people who have been taught to stand on their own feet. They will cut the apron-strings, they will train their children so that they will be capable of founding and running happily in homes of their own.

THE "cut-away" illustration above shows the double-wall construction of the Speed Queen — how the fast-washing bowl tub is nested inside the full-length steel frame — and how this frame protects the porcelain tub inside. Most washers have just a single-wall tub, yet they cost as much as a double-wall Speed Queen! So, why not enjoy the extra advantages of a double-wall Speed Queen?

Stack up what you get for what you pay... and join the nation's largest group of truck users by choosing Chevrolet.
By far the biggest number of truck users today are Chevrolet owners... and for good hard-headed reasons. Because what they get is this:
FACT NO. 1 Save money on purchase price. Stack up a Chevrolet truck against any other truck with comparable specifications. You'll find the Chevrolet truck lists for less.
FACT NO. 2 Save money on operating costs. Hundreds of thousands of truck users have proved to their own satisfaction that Chevrolet's costs the least of all to own and maintain.
FACT NO. 3 Save money on job efficiency. Chevrolet trucks are factory matched to your payload requirements. You don't buy "too much or too little truck."
FACT NO. 4 Save money on low depreciation. Records show that Chevrolet trucks traditionally bring more money at resale than any other make which costs about the same new.

My friends, we cannot express my appreciation to the people of Coffee County for their support on May 6.

As you know I am running for the office of Sup't. of Education of Coffee County. All of you know I have spent many years in the school system in Coffee County on all levels: elementary, junior and senior high schools.

I have tried in every way to do the best job humanly possible in my work.

My last year in college was spent in securing an M. A. Degree in Supervision and Administration of the Public Schools. I studied many things that are almost imperative for the school executive: namely, school laws, school plants, financial management, etc. I am one of the nine teachers in Coffee County with a Masters Degree.

I am one hundred percent behind the Veterans' Training Program and a full-time building up of our community rather than being down and out.

I was the "high man" in the election on May 6, 1952, and I would like very much to be the "high man" in the election that is to be held on June 3, 1952.

Won't you please help this man?
